MUMMERS READY FOR HALLOWEEN

Advance Guard Here Giving Notice of Their Formal Appearance Tomorrow Evening—Parade Timed to Start at 7:30 O'clock

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED

Judges, Who Will Decide the Winners—A Feature Will Be Seven Booths And What They Will Contain

Mummers, hobgoblins, ghosts, ghouls, have been making their advance guard to Charleroi for the past week, giving notice of their formal appearance here tomorrow evening, the celebration to continue through until Saturday evening, inclusive. The parade will take place tomorrow night, the time of its formation being fixed for 7:30 o'clock and the two principal business thoroughfares of the borough will be traversed. In the line of parade, aside from the hobgoblins, mummies, ghosts, and spooks will be at least one band, and possibly a drum corps; judges will be chosen, and for the finest costume worn $10 in gold will be given; for the finest costume worn by a boy, $5, and $5 in gold will be given for lady having the most comic costume.

The whole affair, while ostensibly a Chamber of Commerce proposition, through its Merchants' committee, was turned over by it to the Charleroi Firemen, the special committee of the organization having last night begun the formal work incident to decoration and making preparation for the bazaar, which will be held in connection with the celebration at the Pennsylvania Railroad station, Fifth street and McKean avenue.

There will be seven booths utilized, both Friday and Saturday evenings, and it is said that there will be street dancing both nights. The parade tomorrow night will assemble at the Municipal building at 7:30 o'clock. The line of march will be from Second street to McKean avenue, to Tenth street, up Fallowfield to Fifth and disband at Fifth street and McKean avenue.

In the line of march, the mummies, ghosts, spooks and hobgoblins will pass three judges, John Jenkins, Roland Brown and Tom P. Sloan, who will make choice of the ones deserving of the different awards.

The Firemen's committee is being assisted in the celebration by the Merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is comprised of Carl McGuire, chairman; H. M. Lowstuter, J. D. Wolfe, George Hudspeth, Bruce Hayes, Wilbur Baines, and Daniel Sims.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be devoted to the annual Community Christmas Tree fund.

Don't allow your credit to become impaired. You can prevent this only too easily through the Community System.

TWELVE ARE MISSING; SCORE ARE BURNED

Martinez, Calif., October 30.—Twelve men are missing and more than a score are suffering from burns following explosion of 60,000 cases of gasoline at the wharves of the Associated Oil Company, five miles from here.

The men were members of the tanker Alden Anderson, which was destroyed by flames which spread over the dock.

There were 42 men in the crew, all of whom were forced to jump overboard when flames blocked their escape to the dock. All but 12 were picked up in the water.

The explosion was caused by collapse of the wharves, dragging down electric wires which set off the gasoline.

CONTEST IS

EXTENDED TO NOVEMBER 10

Owing to numerous requests, announcement has been made by D. H. Johnson, chairman of the local committee in charge of the Home Lighting contest in the schools of Charleroi, that it has been decided to extend the contest until November 10.

The local contest was October 31, but, owing to the unprecedented number of entries, it has been deemed advisable to grant an extension of 10 days. All essays must be handed in not later than midnight of November 10, as the local judges will have but a short time in which to judge the local winners and select the essays to be entered in the International contest for the $15,000 home and ten college scholarships.

It is doubtful if any other contest, heretofore held in the public schools, has been entered into with as much enthusiasm as the present, due partly to the novel manner in which it is intended to be worked out. The educational value, however, will have remained with the children long after the contest will have been forgotten as it will have taught them how to conserve their health and eyesight through the medium of better light in the home.

Judging of the essays will start on November 11, the names of the local winners and those to be entered in the International contest to be published in this paper as soon as the judges have finished their work. A. V. Hewitt, Publicity Manager.

MURDER WITNESS

COMMITTS SUICIDE BY HANGING

Belvidere, N. J., Oct. 30.—Frank Thomas, held as a material witness in connection with the murder of his wife Grace, committed suicide during the night by hanging himself to a bar of his cell door in the county jail here.

Thomas's body was found in his cell shortly after 6 a. m., with a pair of suspenders tied around his neck holding his head and shoulders suspended. Thomas apparently laid down after adjusting the suspenders, strangling himself little by little.

During the questioning by police yesterday, Thomas stoutly maintained his innocence in connection with the murder of his wife.

THINK!

Public utilities should be government controlled but not government owned, for two reasons; they cannot be so economically operated and it entangles business with politics.

As an example, government owned railroads in Canada are now facing a deficit of 45 million dollars, and the people of Canada are being asked to make up the deficit.

The most important property of the country is transportation and water power. It is not only very large in amount but it is of great strategic value. It could be used in such a way as to assume virtual control of all other business of any importance. It is proposed that these properties be brought under public ownership.

Responsible public commissions have valued these at about $35,000,000,000. Such a cost would more than double our public debt. And deficits in earnings would have to be made up out of taxes. We did that during the war at a cost of $1,600,000,000. With the government in possession of such a great engine, with two and three-quarters millions of employees, spending $9,000,000,000 or more each year, holding virtually the power of life and death, what chance would the rest of the people have?

Thieves Get $125 In A Station Theft

Robbers were enriched to the extent of $125 in cash, 200 two-cent stamps, and 100 one-cent stamps, when they forced an entrance to the Webster P. and L. E. station yesterday morning. Station Agent J. H. Staid made the discovery when he opened the safe. He reported the theft to the railway officials. Railroad detectives are now at work on the case. The robbers broke into the station waiting room by way of the window. The station has been robbed before, it is said, due to it is thought to be a bad one, the man's condition is not serious. He was brought to the local hospital in the Melinger ambulance of Belle Vernon.

The P. H. C. will hold a masquerade party and dance at the P. H. C. hall Friday evening, October 31. Come masked. Prizes will be given to the best dressed and most comically dressed lady and gentleman. Good music. Admission 25c. 12611

Man Shot In Struggle For A Gun

Nelson Ross, aged 35, colored, of Red Town, near Belle Vernon, is a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the left hip inflicted, it is alleged, by his wife, when he was wrestling for possession of the firearm. Although the wound inflicted is a bad one, the man's condition is not serious. He was brought to the local hospital in the Melinger ambulance of Belle Vernon.

The shooting occurred last night at 7 o'clock, when according to Ross he started from his home to go to Pricedale for his pay at the Pricedale mine, where he is employed. His wife, not believing the story, secured a gun and to frighten him shot twice in the air. Ross returned to the house and in a wrestle to secure the weapon, it was discharged, the bullet entering the man's hip. Ross, in his story to hospital authorities, blames himself rather than his wife, saying the shooting was entirely accidental.

DEATH DUE TO HEART TROUBLE

William B. Linn, 57 years old, one of Burgettstown's most prominent residents, died at his home in that place yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock after an illness of a few weeks due to heart trouble. Mr. Linn was born in Franklin county, at Proudfit Linn, but had spent the greater part of his life in Washington county.

After attending schools in Franklin and Washington county, Mr. Linn enrolled as a student at Duff's Business college, Pittsburgh and upon his graduation engaged in the lumber and building supplies business, being associated with his brother, the late John P. Linn. Later Robert F. Linn, a brother, became a member of the firm.

Mr. Linn continued in this business for a time was located at McKeesport, where he held a position with the National Lumber company, in which the Linn Bros. were interested. He returned to Burgettstown in 1909 and had since resided there.

Prominent in the affairs of the town, Mr. Linn served as a member of the town council for several terms and was president of the body for one term. Upon the death of his brother, John P. Linn, he was chosen as executor in the Burgettstown National bank. He was an active member in the First Presbyterian church and was one of the elders of the congregation at the time of his death. He was a member of Richard Vaux Lodge No. 454 of the Masonic fraternity.

On January 9, 1897, Mr. Linn married Miss Alice Betts, of Hopevale, O., who survives. He leaves two brothers, Robert F. Linn of Burgettstown and Rev. James P. Linn of Cecil Bluffs, Ia.

Funeral services will be held at Star Meat Market at 609 Fallowfield avenue, and in the future the store will be under the personal management of David Roth of Donora, Pa. Mr. Roth is the proprietor of an up-to-date meat and grocery store in Donora, Pa., and will handle nothing but the best quality of fresh and smoked meats in his Charleroi store. He will do his utmost to please his customers and patrons. Your patronage solicited.

Fight In Mill Results Badly For Workmen

Andrew Sinal, a young man employed in the nail mill of the Pittsburgh Steel, is suffering from a fractured skull in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela City, as a result of an attack made on him late Tuesday night by a fellow employee, Oscar McWilliams, a colored man. The men got into an argument while attending to their duties in the mill, and it is alleged that McWilliams picked up a heavy pair of plyers and struck young Sinal over the head and he fell to the floor.

Fellow employees, noticing the force with which the blow was delivered, believed that the man had been killed and immediately called the mill police. McWilliams made no effort to escape and was quickly taken into custody and brought to the mill gate where he was turned over to the police.

Sinal failed to recover consciousness in the mill hospital and after an examination he was removed to the

Elks Bingville Is Attended By 300 Members And Friends

With good music, beautiful decorations, delicious "casts" and everything else that goes towards the success of an affair, the 300 members and friends that attended the opening night of the annual Elks Bingville, spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The club house, located at the corner of Third street and Fallowfield avenue, was crowded to capacity with folks present from all outlying nearby towns, who, according to their own expressions, enjoyed a red-letter occasion.

The majority of folks appeared in Bingville costumes to conform with the decorations. Something should be said about the decorations, which were very clever. One unique and unusual feature was the appearance of a barnyard in the middle of the ball room. In this barnyard there were real honest-to-goodness suckling pigs, geese and a calf. Surrounding the fence, which enclosed the menagerie, there were corn husks, pumpkins and the like, which in fact prevailed throughout the club house.

During intermissions the assembly would gather in the basement rooms, where every conceivable edible was served and other forms of entertainment were in vogue.

There is still a chance for those who missed the good time last night to be in line for perhaps the better one tonight, when the Grand Ville orchestra will furnish music for square dancing. Danny Nirella's orchestra made a big hit last night with the round dancers. A larger crowd is expected tonight.

VICTIMS BRING TOTAL TO 31

New York, Oct. 30.—Eleven more victims of "looney gas" in reconstruction hospital here today brought the total to 31 men crazed from fumes of the deadly tetra-ethyl inhaled in the Rayway, N. J.

Four men have died, after becoming violently insane from the fumes and six of those in the hospital are reported in a "serious condition."

The eleven men were removed from their homes in Elizabeth, N. J., in order to be kept in the hospital, which has been closed, remain thus far unaffected.

The federal government has taken a hand in the investigation and is sending experts from Washington laboratories of the Bureau of mines to make researches into the nature of the malady and strive to find an antidote.

VIEWS THE ENGLISH ELECTION

Paris, Oct. 30.—Victory of the Conservative party in the British general elections "looks bad for international solidarity," the Matin said today.

All the morning papers regard the Conservative success as assured. "Stanley Baldwin, will find his task as leader most difficult," the Matin said. "He cannot find a remedy for economic distress except by close and generous solidarity with other countries."

"The British dominions have their own problems. They will defend their own interests and will demand that England refuse to ratify the Geneva protocol (providing a basis for international limitation of armaments) which looks bad for international solidarity."

Jack Parizena, 40 Years Old, of Near Star Junction, Visiting in Monongahela, Meets Almost Instant Death Last Night

THE DRIVER IS BEING HELD

Joseph J. Halka of Donora and John Odelza, Also of Donora, Taken Into Custody In The Matter And Are Being Held By the Authorities

Jack Parizena, 40 years old, of Red Lion near Star Junction, Pa., was almost instantly killed at Monongahela last night at 8:05 o'clock when struck by an automobile in the Major Hollow section of East Main street, Monongahela.

Joseph J. Halka, aged 27 of Fourteenth street, Donora, driver of the machine which hit Parizena, and John Odelza, aged 22 of Donora, who was a passenger in the machine, were taken into custody and are being held or authorities.

Parizena lived only a few minutes. He was placed in an ambulance and was being removed to the Memorial hospital when death occurred.

Deputy Coroner L. M. Frye took charge of the remains and removed them to his mortuary. He also conducted an investigation into the accident.

It was some time before the body of the dead man could be identified. He was a stranger in this section but Deputy Coroner Frye learned that he had been visiting relatives and friends in this section and had just left home accompanied by his wife to go to Gallatin to visit a cousin when he was killed.

It was stated that Halka did not bring his machine to a stop until it had traveled more than 100 yards after hitting Parizena. The dead man's skull was fractured. The machine did not pass over his body and he apparently received the fatal hurt when he was hurled violently to the street. Parizena leaves his wife and two children.

MASS MEETING IN MONESSEN

A genuine old-fashioned Republican mass meeting is to be held in Moose hall, Monessen, this evening at 8 o'clock. The principal speech will be made by Congressman M. Clyde Kelly of Braddock, and it is said local Republicans, men and women, will attend.

For two weeks the candidates have been on the circuit of Westmoreland county towns, speaking in many of them, and visiting practically all of them.

CHRISTY PARK TO PLAY THE CRACK BROWNSVILLE TEAM

The Brownsville Independent Football eleven will meet their strongest rival of the year this Sunday at West Browns—Christy Park of Pittsburgh. No other teams in the five years Brownsville has had causes as much attraction and interest.

Christy Park is the only eleven that has defeated Brownsville in the past five years. They accomplished the unexpected last year by a lone field goal. This alone is the reason the Independents are in a fighting mood. Practice sessions for the Brownsville team have been lengthened, workouts more strenuous, order more strict than ever—all for this Sunday's game.

Brownsville feel pessimistic. This game promises to tax the capacity of the Junction field which will have 500 seats besides much standing room for the spectators. A mob of football zealots will be on hand.

Brownsville Independent must extend themselves beyond the limit in the coming battle.

DIG GAME AT BENTLEYVILLE; TOWN ENTHUSED

Bentleyville is prepared for the "big battle" of the scholastic gridiron season in that town tomorrow at 3 o'clock when Bentleyville and East Bethlehem are to clash. The rivalry between the two schools and their followers is strong and preparations have been made to handle the largest crowd that ever attended a gridiron contest in Bentleyville.

Bentleyville has the edge on its record to date but East Bethlehem has shown strength in all its struggles and a real contest is promised. Bentleyville is undefeated to date. East Bethlehem has lost a couple of games by close scores but is feared by the local players.

The officials for the game will be as follows: Referee, Herrington; umpire, Campbell; head linesman, Bodsworth.

"THE SLANDERERS" COMING TO THE MAJESTIC

The entangling differences which so often occur between relations is the theme of Universal's latest special production, "The Slanderers," an adaptation of Valma Clark's McCall magazine story published as "Judgment of West Paradise," which has its first local showing this week at the Majestic Theater.

Johnny Walker, noted for his work in many snappy modern productions, especially "Riders Up," a racing picture, has the lead, with Gladys Hulette of Baby Peggy's sensational picture, "The Law Forbids." Billy Sullivan, Philo McCullough, Margaret Landis, Edith Yorks and George Nichols also have strong parts. Nat Ross directed.

Walker has the role of a self-sacrificing elder brother who suddenly awakens to the fact that he must stand trial for murder if he would protect his younger brother who enlists at the first call for volunteers.

From then on the story takes a number of novel twists. Tragedy overtakes him in the form of slanderous tongue-tongued neighbors who try to make him miserable for him after a jury frees him. The same tongues talk themselves to a frenzy and then attempt a despicable act against his foster sister, until they are beaten back.

"The Slanderers" will be shown tomorrow and Saturday at the Majestic.

Mirage Produced by Passage of Light Rays

The mirage is an optical illusion in which images of distant objects are seen as if inverted or raised in the air, says the Detroit News. This phenomenon was first explained by a Frenchman who went with Napoleon on his first expedition in Egypt, where mirages are very common.

The phenomenon is due to the rays of light being changed in their direction when passing through colder or hotter strata of air. Layers of air in contact with the surface of deserts become greatly expanded and rarefied, while those immediately above remain denser, thus causing the light rays to be bent upward. However, over water the condition is just the reverse. The layers above are warmer than those next to the water. When an object appears to be lifted above its real position in the phenomenon it is called looming. In the case of looming the reflection is from the sky while in ordinary mirage it is from the earth. Mirages are common in Egypt, Persia, Turkistan, California, Nevada and Alaska.

Hogs Followed Owner

Hogs usually are neither intelligent nor companionable, but like other animals they do not always run true to type. In moving from one farm to another, perhaps ten miles away, Mr. Turner, a farmer of the Kentucky hills, decided, writes a contributor to the Youth's Companion, to leave his herd of forty swine in an open field at his old home until the following morning when he would return for them. Next morning he was up early in his new house, making preparations for the arduous task of driving before him over rough mountain roads two score hogs, any or all of which might prove refractory. But when he emerged from the house into the front yard imagine his astonishment at seeing his hogs, all forty of them, standing before him at the gate!

Were the hogs so much attached to their owner that they followed him to his new home? Or did they follow the trail of the farmer's cattle? The owner and all the neighbors, too, were completely mystified.

Famous Old Highland Town

Crieff was greatly beloved by Charles Reade, who said: "The habitable globe possesses no more delightful spot than Crieff."

But the district is not only charming; it is also of hoary antiquity. Stone and bronze instruments, records of a bygone age, have been found there. Muirhill, three miles from Crieff, is the site where the Roman legions under Agricola defeated the British leader, Galgacus, and thirty thousand men. The earls palatine of Strathearn, "leaders of the Celtic party in Scotland—tribal kings in their own right," held courts at Crieff from the earliest time of which we have any record, but modern Crieff may be said to date its rise from the opening of the first railway in 1856.—London Post.

Climbing a Tall Smokestack

When a huge steel smokestack of a power house needed painting and it was found rather difficult to arrange a tackle to haul up a man, the fireman made a parachute that fitted snugly inside of the stack. He attached a string to the parachute and allowed the draft in the stack to carry it up. A small rope was next tied to the string and pulled up, and finally a rope strong enough to hold the tackle, which was arranged to hoist up the painter.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

"To Walk Spanish"

To make a person "walk Spanish" is to make him come up to time, or to make him act under compulsion. It refers to the old sport among boys in which one boy seizes another by the collar and the seat of the trousers and forces him along on tiptoe. Hence, by extension, it means to walk gingerly. Apparently the expression originally referred to the manner in which the Spanish pirates used to handle their prisoners while striding them out on the plank.—Exchange.

away with unerring accuracy. A number of the Philadelphia pitchers permit opposing runners to get a big lead, but despite this Perkins turns most of them back.

Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox and George Sisler of the Browns are two of the best base runners in the American league. There is little to choose between them, yet Sisler has always been easy for Perkins to throw out, while Collins has been correspondingly tough.

In a game between Chicago and the Athletics which Mack's club won 3 to 2, Collins in the eighth inning hit safely and a moment later tried to steal second. Pitcher Harris permitted him to get away to a flying start, and only a remarkable throw by Perkins made it possible to get Collins at second. That throw just about saved the game.

After the contest Perkins remarked: "Although I have been in the American league a number of years, that is the first time I can ever remember throwing out Eddie Collins. It has always seemed that every time he started to steal on me, something always happened to make the attempt successful. Throwing Collins out today is the first time in my career, if my memory serves me correctly, and I have been trying to do it for over a half dozen years."

CAPITALIST, SUEB, DENOUNCES KIN OF FORMER CZAR

Choice epithets were hurled at Prince Felix Youssouff (below), cousin of the late Russian czar and reputed slayer of Rasputin, by Joseph E. Widener (at top), Philadelphia financier, when he took the stand in the prince's suit for the return of two paintings by Rembrandt valued at more than $500,000. The prince says he sold the paintings to Widener with the agreement that he could buy them back at the same price plus interest. Widener says the prince himself violated the contract. The capitalist intends to present his art collection, worth millions, to the public.

Proud Moment

"Well, I came down with flying colors, anyhow," remarked the painter who had just fallen off the scaffolding with a pot of paint in each hand—California Cub.

Two Worthy Wishes

If you will let me, I will wish you in your future what all men desire—enough work to do and strength enough to do your work.—Kipling.

Today and Yesterday

FEW youngsters to-day ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, radios, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it

BIG BIZ, HERE TO TAY.

It used to be popular for a candidate for office to stand on the corner and denounce big business. Now, however, a very large proportion of the men who work for wages are employed by large establishments and they know that the large business concerns are the ones that pay the best wages, afford most constant employment, take the best care of their workers, offer the best opportunities for advancement, and are the most dependable when pay day comes. While, of course, there are exceptions to all rules, the general rule in the United States today is that the large concern gives the best value for the least cost. The political windjammer can't get far these days by condemning big business.

DOING IT JUST THE SAME.

Our interpreters in the Democratic and Third Parties tell us that we cannot hope to sell abroad unless we first sell at home. Well, in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, we exported to Great Britain goods to the value of $311,000,000 as compared with exports to the value of $272,000,000 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913. Exports to Europe as a whole were $700,000,000 greater in the year ending in 1924 than in the year ending in 1913. And Europe is not particularly well fixed for buying just now, either.

Brought into a New York court on charge of producing an indecent play and exhibiting pictures of the worst scenes therein, Earl Carroll submitted experts to prove that the pictures were "art," whereupon the hard-headed magistrate ruled that the point was not art but indecency and the latter question he was fully competent to decide. He might have added that "art" is now employed as an argument in favor not only of the indecent but of much that is ugly and revolting.

The president of Vassar College, though hitherto a Republican in good standing, is sharply critical of Mr. Coolidge. One of his milder remarks is that Mr. Coolidge is "an edited man" and was "put together in a publicity office." Whatever may be thought of Dr. McCracken's view in general, it must be admitted that great is the power of shrewdly directed "publicity" in these times.

Another instance of the strange bedfellows. "You can not punish a millionaire as a poor man would be punished, no matter how revolting or inhuman his crime may be," said Senator LaFollette in Chicago, and on the platform with him sat his announced supporter, Clarence Darrow, who is credited with saving the necks of Leopold and Loeb.

Where there's a will there's a way even with a New England conscience involved. The Connecticut man who thought it not quite right to contribute as much as $25,000 to his party's campaign fund neatly managed the delicate matter by giving half that sum and letting his wife give the other half.

The noted author and diplomat who expects the candidate of his choice to be elected because "the people of the United States have common sense" forgets that about election time half of the people regard the other half as lacking in the most ordinary intelligence.

The name given the new dirigible, Los Angeles, (the angels), calls to mind the report that the natives of the hills of Haiti call the aeroplanes employed by scouting American marines "wicked angels."

NOTICE TO BRIDGE CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Controller, at his office, Court House, Washington, Pa., until 11:30 a. m., Wednesday, November 12th, 1924, and opened immediately thereafter for the construction of the steel superstructure for the Eighty-Four Bridge, No. 20 over Chartiers Creek.

Plans and specifications to be seen at the office of County Engineers, Court House.

A certified check in the sum of $500.00 must accompany each proposal.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

WORKERS LABORING HARD IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

W. Harry Baker, chairman of the Republican State Committee, is the head of one of the most efficient working forces in the city of Philadelphia. He is state headquarters, 306 South Broad street. These workers, many of whom are women, begin early each day, and their activities sometimes run far into the night when occasion demands.

A visit to the headquarters is interesting from many viewpoints but particularly so to the old-timer who remembers the methods of other days and compares them with the business-like precision with which the present organization attends to its duties.

In the old days a woman was a rarity in a political organization headquarters, the working forces being made up largely of men, each of whom considered himself more or less of a politician. Between puffs from big cigars these outcasts discussed political battles in wards and even in precincts, and, while they were a picturesque and interesting group, they would hardly fit in the driving battles.

When one enters the door of the Republican State headquarters today he is met by A. K. Cassel, known to two generations, who finds out the nature of his business, and either disposes of it himself or refers him to the proper official. The lack of typewriters is the only sound that is heard in the building, which, by the way, is well appointed in a class for its class.

The only suggestion of political atmosphere is in the rows of paintings and photographs of the former great men of the Republican party in Pennsylvania. This environment tends to furnish the necessary political coloring and must have an influence on the workers. Courtesy to everybody is the order and none of the people are more courteous than the officials who are bearing the brunt of the battle. There can be no question of the efficiency of the power house of the Republican party in the State of Pennsylvania.

St. Bartholomew Massacre

This massacre of the Huguenots occurred April 24-25, 1572. It grew out of feuds in France between the house of Guise and the Roman Catholics on the one hand, the house of Conde and the Huguenots on the other. From the tower of the royal palace the signal was given for the carnival of blood, which lasted several weeks. Statistics concerning the number of deaths occasioned by the massacre of St. Bartholomew vary from 2,000 to 100,000.

Mormon "Boweries"

The first meeting places of the Mormons in Salt Lake City were called "boweries" and the "Old Bowerly" was erected, 1847, on the site of the present temple. It was built of poles and brush 160 by 60 feet. Posts were set and a skeleton frame lashed with rawhide thongs and wooden pegs. Upon this structure willows, sagebrush, evergreens and other shrubs were piled. This served until 1852.

Big Noise, Little Cause

The noise in the receiver of the telephone is made by the vibration of a diaphragm, but it is hard to conceive the minuteness of this vibration. A scientific person has recently undertaken to measure this agitation of the diaphragm and has arrived at the conclusion that it is no more than one thirty-fifth part of the millionth of an inch.

Kitchen Floor

If wood is used for the kitchen floor, a hard, close grained lumber should be chosen. A lumber of this type will give longer service, is tougher and will resist water better than one which is softer and has more open pores. Maple is one of the best lumbars for this purpose.

What is trouble to you is joy to a lawyer.

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION of the Famous Adams Cheerful Heaters Friday and Saturday Only

"It's All In The Burner"

"It's All In The Burner"

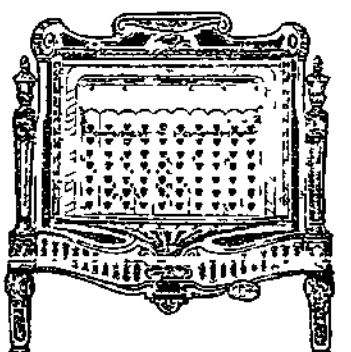

THIS ILLUSTRATION OF THE ADAMS PATENTED CENTRAL DRAFT BURNER SHOWS THE APPLICATION OF SECONDARY AIR REQUIRED FOR COMPLETE COMBUSTION.

SUCTION PRODUCED BY GAS PASSING FROM THE NEEDLE VALVE DRAWS AIR INTO THE MIXING CHAMBER, WHERE THE AIR AND GAS ARE THOROUGHLY MIXED. AS THIS MIXTURE PASSES OUT OF THE BURNER TIPS, AND BURNS, ADDITIONAL AIR IS DRAWN INTO THE FLAME THROUGH THE CENTRAL DRAFT FLUES, ASSURING COMPLETE COMBUSTION.

THERE ARE NO SCREENS, SMALL GAS OR AIR PASSAGES TO BECOME OBSTRUCTED AND INTERFERE WITH CONTINUOUS PROPER OPERATION.

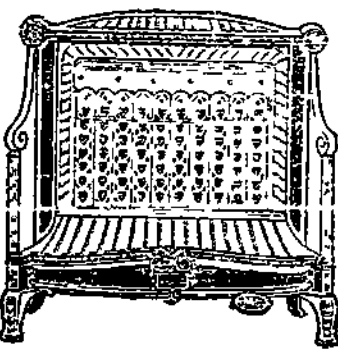

THE DESIGN OF BURNER IS THE RESULT OF TWENTY-SIX YEARS OF EXPERIENCE IN THE MANUFACTURE OF GAS HEATERS.

Style No. 8, Ten Radiants

For those who desire the highest quality heater, and where the size of fireplace opening does not permit of the use of a heater with Androns, we offer the Adams Cheerful Radiant Heater shown above.

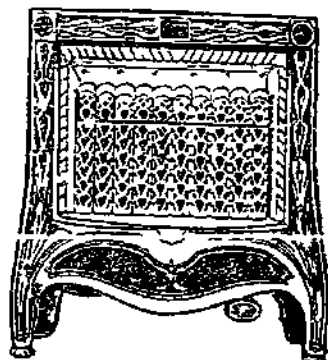

The standard finish is Antique Brass.

Style No. 4, Ten Radiants

The most popular of all Adams Cheerful Radiant Heaters. Cast metal construction throughout.

Standard finishes are Antique Brass, Statuary Bronze and Bright Brass.

Style No. 10, Ten Radiants

Cast iron construction throughout, and in every way the equal in efficiency of other Adams Cheerful Radiant Heaters.

Standard finish is Ebony and Green, Baked Enamel.

The Personal Side

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Frye of Bensenville were visitors in Charleroi last evening in attendance at the Elk Bivouac.

Mrs. George W. Hoff, Mrs. S. E. Dornan, and Mrs. Springer Silbaugh all of this place, visited with relatives in McKeesport yesterday.

John Gallo, manager of the foreign department of the First National Bank, who three weeks ago underwent an operation in the Allegheny General hospital returned to his home in 610 Lookout avenue yesterday very much improved.

Mrs. Threasa Rhoades of Myersdale, is a guest at the home of her son, William Rhoades of McKean avenue. She was accompanied here Tuesday by her daughter Mrs. Threasa Schumaker of Myersdale, who has returned to her home.

ROSCOE

Mrs. Nick Petriek is improving from a short illness.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark a son, Mrs. Stark was formerly Margaret Kipp.

Mrs. George Nagel, formerly of Roscoe, but now of Columbus, Ohio, is visiting with relatives and friends in Roscoe.

The Elco Sterlings will play their second game at Allenport on Sunday afternoon, their opponents to be the strong Fayette City team.

The Sunday school class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a party Tuesday evening. The participants enjoyed the occasion much after the manner of parties, and a feature was the luncheon served.

Cotton in the Sudan

The entire valley of the Nile in the Sudan is very rich and most important. It has first chance at the water that comes down the long channel of the White Nile from Africa's great lakes and down the Blue Nile from the Abyssinian highlands. More and more cotton is being grown in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and the country may one day prove a rival to the land of Dixie.

Ants Burrow Into Logs

Saws are not the only makers of sawdust. Ants are in the business, too. In the West, where many fallen logs are found in the forests, ants burrow their homes in the logs. Small piles of sawdust along a log indicate that ant home makers have been at work. The ants live in tunnels running deep into the logs.—Grit.

"News" in "Newport News"

The origin of the name of the city of Newport News is uncertain. It is believed to be derived from two proper names—Newport and Newce. Captain Newport commanded the first vessel to bring immigrants to Virginia and William Newce was one of the early treasurers of the colony. John Smith wrote the latter name "Nuse."

Where the Day Is Long

At Leningrad the longest day is 19 hours, and at Tornia, Finland, June 21 is nearly 22 hours. At Wardburg, Norway, however, the longest day starts on May 21 and ends on July 22, while in Spitzbergen they have a day of three and a half months, during which the sun never sets.

A Summer Disease

Two little boys were visiting in the country. There were a lot of green apples on the ground and the younger boy picked one up and bit into it. "Don't eat that, Jimmy," warned the other, "or you will get apple-plexy."—Boston Transcript.

IN THE LEADING ROLE AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY

Patsy Ruth Miller is one of the most successful of the younger screen stars. "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is her most spectacular picture. "His Woman" is her latest.

In Society's Realm

The members of the Isabel Thoburn class of the Methodist Episcopal church, will hold a masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hoff of 516 Lookout avenue, with Mrs. Mary Harrington, Mrs. Frances Herget and Mrs. S. E. Dornan as hostesses.

Scoutmaster Herbert W. Barker and his troop of Boy Scouts, Rotary Troop No. 5 enjoyed a Halloween party in the community room of the Municipal building last evening. There were thirty-five boys present, who appeared in many varied and unique costumes. Prizes were given the best dressed and the funniest. An evening of merrymaking was spent in playing various games concluded by the serving of "eats."

At the home of Miss Elizabeth Zeller of Fourth street, North Charleroi, the members of her Sunday school class, of the Christ Lutheran church, were entertained with a Halloween party Tuesday evening. The twenty-five members and friends present spent a delightful evening in games in the prettily decorated rooms, followed by the serving of dainty refreshments, which conformed with the season. Every one present spent a very enjoyable evening.

Thirty members of the Anchor class of First Christian church and ten visitors were present at the home of Mrs. James Jacobs of Seventh street Tuesday evening and spent a merry evening in Halloween attire. The chief diversion of the evening consisted of a program of games. Mrs. Ruben Fear, Mrs. J. E. Schultz and Mrs. Joe Chalfant received favors for the most unique costumes and as winners of guessing contests. The hostess served a luncheon assisted by the class officers.

Mrs. H. F. Coates of 819 Washington avenue, entertained the Wednesday Evening 500 club at her home last evening. The members appeared in Halloween attire and many various costumes were in vogue. The evening was delightfully spent in cards and dancing, followed by the distribution of the favors to Mrs. William Newton, Mrs. F. Protin and Mrs. Lawrence tech. One new member was enrolled, Mrs. Effie Malcolm. At a late hour, luncheon was served by the hostess, after which the members adjourned to meet again November 12 at the home of Mrs. Mary Richer of Lincoln avenue.

The Charleroi High School Gymnasium, which was beautifully decorated, was the scene of another annual Sophomore Halloween party last night with approximately three to four hundred in attendance. Not only were the students present, but also the Faculty members and alumni, the majority of which were attired in Halloween apparel. Dancing was the main diversion, the Keystone serenaders furnishing the music. Miss Margaret Carroll entertained with a special dance, which was very much enjoyed. Luncheon was served. The affair was in the hands of the Sophomore A and B classes.

With twenty masked and costumed friends present, Mrs. I. G. Ransa of Luella avenue, entertained at her home Tuesday evening with a Halloween party. The interior of the home was decorated with Halloween trimmings, making a pretty setting for the merry-making. Many unique costumes were represented by the guests, who spent the evening in playing games. Special features of entertainment were the solos sung by Mrs. Frank Kurpijweit and Mrs. Michael Mebs, with William Ransa as the accompanist. At a late hour the guests were ushered to the dining room, where a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Oleksak.

English Superstition

There are many English superstitions connected with babies, the most interesting of which being what is known as "the christening bit." On the way to the christening the nurse must take with her a small bag of biscuits, which she must offer to the first person she meets. If he refuses, the child will be unlucky, but if he accepts, then good fortune will smile upon the babe.

"Something Just as Good"

A woman in New Mexico received the following letter from a Philadelphia firm: "Dear Madam: We are sorry to state that we cannot furnish Pepps Diary about which you inquired, but we have Diamond Brand pens from $2.50 to $6 each. If you would like one of them, we will be glad to attend to your order as soon as it reaches here."

Temple Rolls in Wind

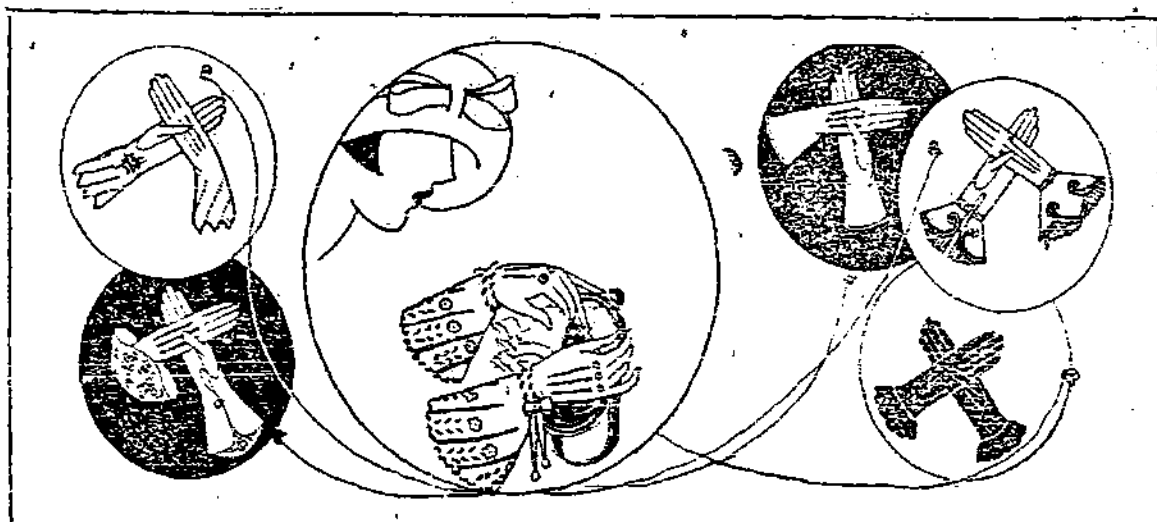

Indians who worship in a temple near Burma, British India, run the risk of having the building tumble about their ears. The temple is built on a huge slab upon a rocky elevation. So evenly balanced is the slab that it sways back and forth, temple and all, in a strong wind blows.

HUSBAND SAID WHY NOT TRY IT

Wife Said She Would. Result, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

East Hardwick, Vt.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, side ache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said I would, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself? You look so well.' I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."—Mrs. FRED. PRIMO, Route No. 2, East Hardwick, Vermont.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their household duties. In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 95 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Savings Deposits

There are many people who delay the opening of a Savings Account because they feel that a small deposit will not be welcome and that it is better to wait until they have accumulated a considerable sum. Too often they keep on waiting.

The First National Bank wants you to know that we welcome Savings deposits in any amount from $1.00 upwards and that the size of the account does not matter so much. The REGULARITY with which you save means more to us—and to you—than the amount deposited.

BALDWIN PARTY APPARENT WINNER IN BRITISH ISLES

London, Oct. 30.—The Conservative party, headed by the Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, appeared today to have won a clear majority of parliament seats over all other parties in the British general election.

A tremendous Conservative landslide, started by the cry of "bolshivism" and given impetus at the last moment by the Zinoviev letter—swept the country, yesterday.

Voters who gave Great Britain its first Labor government ten months ago turned from Ramsay MacDonald and his colleagues to the conservatism of Baldwin—although Labor appears to have polled the largest popular vote in its history.

The standing at noon, with the outcome in 273 of the 615 parliamentary constituencies known, was:

Conservatives, 167.
Labor, 77.
Liberals, 24.
Independents, 3.
Constitutionalists, 1.
Communists, 1.

If the forecast of a majority for the Conservatives is fulfilled, Premier Baldwin will be able to form a ministry and carry on in Commons without the necessity of effecting a coalition with the Liberals.

The Liberal party was crushed at the polls yesterday. H. H. Asquith, its veteran leader, was beaten at Paisley, and the party lost many seats.

Several million more women went to the polls throughout England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales than ever turned out for a general election before and to their vote much of the Conservative success is attributed.

The voting everywhere was extremely heavy, probably constituting a record, more than 80 per cent of the electorate turning out.

When one-third of the constituencies had reported the results of their polling, the Conservatives were seen to be sweeping everything before them, and had gained 58 seats, losing but seven. If they maintained a net gain of 49 over their figure at the election of December, 1923, they were assured of a clear majority.

The Daily News, Liberal, conceding defeat, said this morning:

"It looks now as though the Tory majority in the new parliament would not only be absolute, but strong enough to ride roughshod over united opposition."

At noon the popular vote thus far stood:

Conservatives, 3,180,419.
Labor, 2,551,005.
Liberals, 1,113,643.
Others, 202,000.

The Northminster Gazette, Liberal, said today:

"It is clear that a worked-up 'red' peril in the Tory press sent the balancing factor into the Tory camp."

Many were the upsets, many the surprises, throughout the British Isles.

Miss Elizabeth Wilkinson, a Laborite, was the first woman elected to parliament and incidentally her triumph over her Liberal opponent marked the first Labor gain.

Viscountess Astor, who was Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia, was the second woman elected, her fourth successive success in her home constituency of Plymouth.

S. Saklatvala, an Indian communist, won a seat from a Liberal in the Battersea district of London.

Austen Chamberlain was re-elected at Birmingham.

Stanley Baldwin, of course, was returned unopposed, and his son Oliver, who stood as a Labor candidate, was defeated.

Sir Homer Greenwood, former Irish secretary, was elected in a London suburb as a Constitutionalist and Labor candidate.

Labor voters at Sheffield returned Arthur Ponsonby, under-secretary for foreign affairs.

At Bradford, however, under-secretary for the air ministry, Leach, lost his seat to a Conservative.

The heavy woman vote could not save Margaret Bondfield, parliamentary under-secretary for the ministry of labor, and she was beaten by a Conservative.

Susan Lawrence, another prominent woman Labor member, was defeated by a Conservative.

The Liberal press generally agrees that the result showed a 'panic vote.'

Among those places where the overwhelming Conservative victory was received with enthusiasm was the stock market, which opened firm in response to over-night reports that Baldwin's party was sweeping the country.

Will be here yet for a few days

The two blind ladies, representing the Blind, informed us today that they will be here the balance of the week, and probably Monday. The store room in which they are located in McKean avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, is crowded daily with eager buyers, and the ladies report they have done wonderfully well here.

Speeches and women's skirts are more appreciated when reasonably short.

BIG PEAT BED IS UNCOVERED BY SEA

Find Expected to Cut Cape Cod Fuel Bills.

Boston.—Cape Cod folks have entered the peat business for a long winter. If successful, the coal barons and middlemen, who have been receiving $20 the ton for the poor quality of coal, will get a jolt likely to be long remembered.

In a word, Cape Codders are to return to the peat-burning days of their forefathers, utilizing a recently discovered peat deposit, estimated to yield 50,000 tons, uncovered by the sea surf on Nauset beach in Eastham.

The peat deposit is the greatest natural wonder on Cape Cod. The peat bed is within 300 feet of the ocean, separated at low tide by the white, sandy beach and frequently lashed by breakers. The deposit has been completely covered for 250 years or more by 30 feet of white beach sand.

Gunsold, who visited these shores long before the pilgrims left a map of Cape Cod which shows that at Eastham and also at Chatham long points of land containing hundreds of acres extended miles into the Atlantic. The Eastham point was named Point Car and the other Point Gilbert.

To this day, however, vessels and fishermen have fouled anchors and lines on roots of trees, pieces of which have been brought to the surface, these roots giving positive evidence that land once extended from Chatham to George's banks, 70 miles east-south-east from Chatham Light.

Capt. Albert Walker, veteran of coast guard station No. 39, says he first observed evidence of a peat deposit near that point ten years ago. In that short interval the sea has advanced inland many feet.

The great deposit, which crops out at the foot of the bluff, extends some distance underground, and probably runs back under the coast guard station 500 feet. Inland, beyond the station, is a large swamp, which is about on a level with the peat bed and may form a part of it.

A portion 30 feet wide facing the sea and 40 feet in depth to the bluff behind it has been uncovered by the surf.

In appearance the peat is a rich dark brown of a purely vegetable matter such as decayed leaves and sticks. It crumbles easily, burns freely when dry, but holds fire well and gives off a great heat. The smoke has the pleasant odor of burning cedar.

Carry Death Notice

Through Town on Salver

Tallahassee, Fla.—Funeral announcement on a silver salver, borne through the streets by an aged negro, is an old Spanish custom which exists today in Tallahassee, and nowhere else in the United States, according to the historical committee of the Florida centennial celebration.

"This means of announcing the death of a member of a leading family long antedated the newspapers," points out Col. Fred T. Myers, Tallahassee attorney, whose family has resided here continuously for more than a century. "It was common in the days when the flag of Spain waved over Florida, and has persisted in the face of modern means of communication."

A carefully engrossed announcement of the place and date of funeral and burial is attached to a broad silver tray by bands of black silk ribbon. A dignified negro then bears it through the business section. He presents it ceremoniously to all who care to read.

Stingless Bee in Niche

Beside Spineless Cactus

New York.—The novelty having worn off of the "spineless cactus" and various other concoctions made to order by the incomparable Luther Burbank, allow us to present the latest innovation, the "stingless bee," discovered by Dr. Frank E. Lutz of the American Museum of Natural History.

Doctor Lutz, who recently returned from the wilds of Panama, has startled the scientific world with the "red-bellied trigona," as it has been christened. "Harmless as a butterfly," Doctor Lutz claims for his find.

Bones of Elotherium, Tertiary Beast, Found

Portland, Ore.—Fossils of another strange animal which used to roam the wilds of eastern Oregon years ago have been discovered. A group of University of California geologists have found the skull, tooth and several bones of an elotherium, a squat, piglike creature which probably existed in the tertiary age. The skull was about the size of that of a horse, except that it was flatter. One of the teeth was about two inches in diameter and about three inches long.

Nero's 6-Story Bath Found Near Naples

Milan, Italy.—Nero's pompous bathing house, the largest of the Roman period yet discovered, has been excavated at Agnano, near Naples. The structure is six stories high and 1,125 feet long. The latest topmost galleries were reserved for individual steam baths.
